Subject: [External] The Plight of the Progressive Teacher
Good morning,

My name is Skip Murphy and I own/manage GraniteGrok.com which is New Hampshire's largest and most influential political blogsite. Opining from the Right of Center, we base ourselves on both the US and NH Constitutions and on conservatarian principles. I am also a member of the informal group called Defend Our Kids in which we are trying to remove the Progressive/Woke School Board members and replace them with those of a more traditional mindset.

Thus, when I came across your post, The Plight of the Progressive Teacher, over at American Greatness (<https://amgreatness.com/2022/08/20/the-plight-of-the-progressive-teacher/>), I had to read it.

Now, having read it, I am wondering if I could cross-post it, with full attribution, at GraniteGrok.com for my readers to whom this is an important topic?

Thank you for your consideration.

Kindest regards,

-Skip
