Musings from a capital-C Conservative American Jew.

Marxianic Zeal

January 05, 2019

(Please note – as far as I’ve seen I am the coiner of this term; if you use it, and please do, I would appreciate a hat tip. My understanding of Leftists as missionaries, however, comes from David Horowitz of frontpagemag.com, so I’m giving full credit to him for that.)

In my essay The Blue Virus I discussed my pessimism about the long-term stability of what many have discussed: a peaceful – or at least as peaceful as such things can be given other, similar events in history – split of the US into two or more separate countries. Migrants of the “blue” variety are a problem though; Blue-State Refugees:

Too many liberals move to low-tax states like Florida to escape the crime, taxes, corruption, and dysfunction of their home states only to bring the values of the ancien régime with them.

The upshot is that destination states incrementally turn purple, then blue. In time, the expats new homes mirror the old-guard liberal enclaves like New York, Maine, and New Jersey they fled.

Witness recent trends in Arizona, Florida, and Texas.

I agree. Texas’ senate race between Ted Cruz and empty-shirt-pretty-boy Beto O’Roarke should not even have been close – so surprise, surprise! Never mind the Florida and Georgia and Arizona vote-steals, and Orange County, and California in general, and other voter fraud, the sheer weight of blue-into-red migration with the new residents voting for the policies they fled, there’s another dimension: intentional migration to change the politics.

MISSIONARIES

Merriam-Webster defines missionary as follows:

mis·sion·ary | \ 'mi-shə-,ner-ē

- (Entry 1 of 2) a person undertaking a mission and especially a religious mission, e.g., missionaries who strove to convert natives to Christianity
- (Entry 2 of 2) relating to, engaged in, or devoted to missions

Is there anyone that can argue the below expressed idea – moving to a state specifically to flip it from

Red to Blue, i.e., bringing “progressive enlightenment to the hicks” – does not rise to this definition?

(Image from the post Carpetbaggers)

So consider this quote from the just-above linked article:

“Are you a member of the Liberal elite in the top 5% who has a job that has the luxury and privilege of not tying you to a specific location? Do you love what your policies have done to California where you are insulted by your wealth from the damage you have done to the middle and working classes? Why not carpetbag in Florida and turn the Sunshine State into East Golden State? The Democrat machine could use you.”

And from a following post, The new colonials:

They come to impose their will on others by volume of numbers, subjugating the existing native culture which they think is backwards, uneducated, and savage under their more enlightened one.

They are true colonialists. They see Middle America the way the French saw the dark heart of Africa or the English saw India.

The Democrat attitude might as well be sorteneed (sic) to “Take up the Progressive’s burden.”

Again, does this not exactly match? These people are actively soliciting people to give up their lives in their oh-so-enlightened-and-diverse enclaves to help impose “right-think” on the slopedforeheadknuckledraggers.

A DARK REFLECTION OF THE FREE STATE PROJECT

(Source: Wikipedia)

Back in my Libertarian days I approved of the Free State Project... but I see the above drive differing in two respects.

First, the FSP was about influencing, and more importantly, influencing by demonstration not by electoral skullduggery. As in “Here’s a possible way to live; let us demonstrate its benefits for you... let’s engage in the marketplace of ideas and test ours in the crucible of reality”.

Second, while the above “hey let’s move and turn the state blue” is, obviously, visible to all – I have strong doubts of the above-board intent of it. I will opine that it is intended to be done in stealth mode. Certainly the enemedia would not cover it the way the FSP got attention. Again, this speaks to bad faith intent.

NEW POPULATIONS

As I wrote in The Big Conspiracy: Electing a New Population, there has clearly been a long-term intent on the part of the Left to dilute, and even replace, the native (mostly white) population with immigrants from countries where pay-for-play corruption and buy-offs of groups for votes is normal. Nobody with more than three brain cells firing at once can, I believe, argue that persons from third-world countries have any real understanding of the rule of law. Many look at the wealth that America has and want a piece of the action, and don’t care about fairness of anything to get it – just look at the jackpot won by the woman who managed to get across the border and then drop an anchor baby within 24 hours of getting onto American soil (links in the original):

Illegal aliens already get more than a thousand dollars more in benefits than legal Americans for starters. If she's coming in as an asylee applicant, she gets far more than just that. If she's merely a garden-variety illegal, she still gets the jackpot. The baby ensures that she will get a $94,000 lifetime welfare benefit package through her U.S.-born child no matter how frivolous her asylum claim may be, accepted or not. She gets cash and food benefits for the child, free housing, free medical care, and pretty much anything else she needs for free. Coming here illegally is a great deal for those in the market for welfare. And non-citizens, as recent reports have shown, are prodigious consumers of welfare.

Honor and decency would prevent me from doing what this woman did, and countless others do. Yet the invaders stream in unabashedly, and jump on the public teat with equal enthusiasm – to the cheers of the Left's enablers. Aided and abetted not just by run-of-the-mill Democrats, but Congressional members who walked the "tear gas woman" across the border: (link in original):

Two members of Congress escorted the family to ask for asylum on Tuesday after they were allegedly being stalked by right-wing activists who thought the tear-gas photo had been staged.

"Thought" it had been staged? Based on the pictures and other information available, I'd say it's a dead-cinch certainty it was staged! And I was listening to a local talk show recently discussing the above outrage – he said that the two Democrat congressmen went to the border, crossed it, found her intentionally, gathered her kids, brought her into the US, and filed an asylum claim for her. How is this not aiding and abetting a criminal act? She's got an asylum hearing supposedly scheduled... any takers on a bet she'll be there?

(A side note: when the leaders of a country so obviously and blatantly flout the law, it's clearly one of the tactics to deliberately undermine faith in the system itself as a prelude to destroy what is to create what they believe must be – as I discussed in Socialism's Gateway Drug.)

In that same show a social worker called in; the only political conservative in the office, she saw illegal aliens getting put in the front of the line, not only ahead of actual Americans needing help, but getting far, far more than those Americans get. Once amnesty is passed, life-long Democrats for sure.

Contrast this enthusiasm for immigration with, say, the Left's rejection of actual victims of Socialism that I discussed in my Big Conspiracy essay (links in the original):

[C]ould the Left's refusing of Vietnamese refugees, and Obama changing the rules on asylum seekers from Cuba, and the zero coverage of Venezuela's refugee exodus let alone zero call for bringing them to the US have anything to do with these three sets of refugees having first-hand experience with the Socialism that the Left seeks to bring to America – and would thus have been a real-world, human-story counterweight to the Progressives Long March towards earthly utopia?

again, you have to have Marxianic Zeal to deliberately commit genocide and replace the population of your own nation with those who will compliantly vote for you, or any of several other means of creating the chaos out of which you believe – can I get a “Hallelujah Brother Max!” from the crowd? – will inevitably result in a one-world Socialist utopia?

TRUE BELIEF

It is very difficult to engage or deflect True Believers. As I noted in Teflon Intellectuals in the Wild, these people can't grasp things outside their belief set. And it was with both vast relief, paired with horror, in reading Vision of the Anointed by Dr. Thomas Sowell that I realized just how pervasive the inability of the Left to assimilate new information truly is, or accept feedback from the real world weighing the results of their policies. Every page of the book – and I'm about 80% done – has notes, underlines, and my comments & thoughts so that when my children read it they'll get a glimpse into the mind of their father.

When you factor in the enemedia (HT to Pamela Geller for this term) and educational echo chambers the Left has conquered, you have whole swaths of the population who believe absurdities; too many to list exhaustively, but things like gender is fluid and not biologically determined, Socialism is good (despite evidence and testimony by people who lived under it), all cultures are of equal worth, borders must be eliminated, the human population must be reduced BAMN (or even outright eliminated) to save the planet... and now cue up Voltaire:

PREPARING THE KILLING FIELDS

Many things are now being seen; we already know, painfully, about “deplatforming” of Conservative voices. Funding for critical voices contrary to the Left’s Narrative is being slowly choked off, for example:

[Patreon Purge: PayPal & MasterCard Collusion? / 20:34]

They hate us. David Horowitz of the David Horowitz Freedom Center and Robert Spencer of Jihad Watch have been attacked, funding-wise, (here and here, respectively) and even physically, (here and here, respectively) as have many others (don't forget the Bernie Bro who attempted actual assassination!). And just recently I learned of a Fox News staffer who was denied housing, apparently twice, based on her political views. You can lose your job for holding wrongthink views... why do you think I blog anonymously?

The Othering of anyone to the right of Stalin is proceeding apace. Harkening back to a very early essay of mine (link and italics in the original):

Consider the words of Socialist Saul Alinsky: "There can be no conversation between the organizer and his opponents. The latter must be depicted as being evil."

Evil. Understand this. They view us as evil. Evil people who push grandma off cliffs. Evil people who starve babies, break up families, and who want to strip-mine the earth and are indifferent to the survival of every living thing. Evil people who want slavery, who want gays executed, and who want to consign women to perpetual slavery in the kitchen, bedroom, and delivery room.

Quoting the above again in The Scarlet "R" I discussed the marking of Conservatives. Consider the push for a cashless society, American Left voices praising China's social credit scoring system, tech companies monitoring your every electronic move, and companies offering implanted chips "for convenience", and the denial-of-mobility with driverless cars in such an age...

TAKE ON THE MINDSET

Imagine you are convinced, truly convinced, that with enough governmental power you can create paradise on earth through Socialism. No more hunger, no more poverty, no more hatred, or wars, or crime, or violence... and you absolutely, positively, believe this is possible. Would you not view those who opposed you as evil too?

Over 100 million people died in the 20th century thanks to Marxianic Zeal and the pursuit of paradise on earth.

The Black Book of Communism: Crimes, Terror, Repression

Without the ability to hide, having been denied the ability to find housing, employment, and being tracked relentlessly through every electronic step, let alone large numbers of people on the Left who – quite literally – think Conservatives should be killed... how many will die this time as Leftists reprise their prior genocidal history, and Conservatives resist understanding that it's a death struggle; for example:

The scariest single conversation I've ever heard in my life was five Special Forces guys having a fun thought exercise about how they would bring a major American city to its knees. They picked Chicago, because it was a place they'd all been. It was fascinating, and utterly terrifying. And I'll never ever put any of it in a book, because I don't want to give crazy people any ideas. Give it about a week and people would be eating each other ...

Filled with Marxianic Zeal, they are like the Terminator - they absolutely positively will not stop, ever, until we are dead or enslaved. Do not doubt it; do not doubt that they will be any less ruthless than this, for they believe that we are the only thing standing between them and utopia, thus our elimination is a moral good:
